2 st. The Swedish National Board is based on free opinion formation and on general and equal voting rights. It is realized through a representative and parliamentary state and through municipal self-government.

3 st. Public power is exercised under the laws.

1 kap. Section 2 Public power shall be exercised with respect for the equal value of all people and for the freedom and dignity of the individual.

2 st. The individual's personal, economic and cultural well-being should be fundamental goals of public activity. In particular, the general public must secure the right to work, housing and education, and to promote social care and security and for good conditions for health.

3 st. The general aim is to promote sustainable development that leads to a good environment for present and future generations.

4 st. The general will work to ensure that the ideas of democracy become guiding in all areas of society and safeguard the private and family life of the individual.

5 st. The general must work for all people to be able to achieve participation and equality in society and for the right of children to be exercised. The general public must counteract discrimination against people on grounds of gender, color, national or ethnic origin, linguistic or religious affiliation, disability, sexual orientation, age or other circumstances that apply to the individual as a person.

6 st. The opportunities of the Sami people and ethnic, linguistic and religious minorities to maintain and develop their own cultural and social life shall be promoted. Law \(2010: 1408\).

Situation in Sweden

Sweden is today in the worst crisis since our country became a nation state. The reason is the disastrous immigration from above all 2015 and onwards. The ultimate responsible for this criminal act is Sweden's current Prime Minister Stefan Löfven with the support of the other party leaders, including Åkesson.

The situation for the Swedish people as a result of this completely thoughtless and irresponsible act is that Sweden is on the verge of collapse as a sovereign state. The people who have come here have largely done so to take over the country and force upon us their medieval culture and values. And they have already achieved some of this. Most of these people represent the world's most violent religion / culture - Islam - which does not allow individual freedoms.

The Swedish government, despite our constitutional / governmental form, has a clear indication that this - Islam ideology is completely contrary to what Swedish society stands for. Since the government does not assert the Constitution against these barbarians, it violates the social contract between the people and the government that can be said to be the form of government.

Police report against the government of Stefan Löfvén

Here I will explain how the Swedish judicial system works - or does not work - when an individual wants to put sitting parliament and government in charge of their decisions and actions.

There is no demand for foreign-born illiteracy, said the coordinator at the employment office in Filipstad and with that we know what our need is for mass immigration.

On December 3, 2019, Johan Widen chose to report all the police to the Löfvén government. I think Stefan Löfvén has violated Sweden's constitution. On September 5, 2019, the government convened a meeting to fight gang crime with common solutions, which is good. Stefan Löfvén and the government decided jointly to deliberately exclude the Sweden Democrats from the negotiations, and thus, in my opinion, have violated the constitutional form of government

Chapter 1. §2

Public power must be exercised with respect for the equal value of all people and for the freedom and dignity of the individual... the general should work for all people to achieve participation.

In other words, there has been no respect for the equal value of all people, nor has it worked for all people to achieve participation, and thus, in my opinion, they have violated the Constitution.

10. 12, the Deputy Prosecutor General's Supervisory Director Susanne Kaevergaard announces the following in the case with case number AMR-5477-19: the notification does not cause any action by the Prosecutor General. you have registered the Minister of State for crimes in the service with diary number 0150-K5526-19AM165598-19. The case has now been handed over to the Prosecutor General and the reasons are considered: Your registration information is considered to be so generally held that it cannot form the basis for an examination of the prerequisites for initiating a preliminary investigation. The Prosecutor General can therefore not take any action on the grounds of the notification.

Then under the heading "information" indicates. Issues regarding crimes in the service of the Cabinet are being examined by the Parliament's Constitutional Committee (KU). This means that KU can initiate a preliminary investigation of such a crime. Anyone who can reasonably believe that a government minister can be suspected of a breach of duty can therefore report the matter to KU.

My report is hardly generally held when I named everyone within the government, I have stated the date when the crime was committed and I have also referred to what legislation and which paragraphs I open calls and why I believe they have committed a crime.

So I am looking for advice on the Constitutional Council on the Internet to contact me, but can not find any contact information but only what they are doing:

Does the government and the ministers follow the rules for government work? The task of the Constitutional Committee, KU, is to review. Members of the Riksdag have the right to report the Ministers in the Government to the University. The committee then investigates whether the ministers who have been notified have done wrong or not. Other areas that KU is responsible for are the constitutions, questions about radio and television and support for the daily press.

So I am looking for advice on the Constitutional Council on the Internet to contact me, but can not find any contact information but only what they are doing: Does the government and the ministers follow the rules for government work? The task of the Constitutional Committee, KU, is to review. Members of the Riksdag have the right to report the Ministers in the Government to the University. The committee then investigates whether the ministers who have been notified have done wrong or not.

Then, as a private person, I get the impression that I cannot report to KU. So I turn to Parliamentary Ombudsman (JO) instead and my application there is registered on 19.12 and gets diary number 9196-2019. JO, or the parliamentary ombudsmen who work according to the laws and regulations governing their work. ... and more than the Constitution can hardly be?

On 27 December, I receive a response from JO, who writes the following: JO's main task is to check that authorities follow the laws and regulations governing their work.

However, the Government and the Minister are not under the supervision of JO as stated in §2 3 paragraph 4 that the Act (1986: 765)

The Ombudsmen's supervision does not include ... the government or ministers

Thus, JO cannot take up your case.

So the prosecutor is not entitled to apply if the government has broken the law, JO does not want to take the matter and KU is only for the members of parliament to turn to.

A Constitutional Court is a state institution for so-called norm control, that is, it has the function of checking whether laws contravene the Constitution and thus declare them invalid. It is not about politics. It only guarantees that what has been so important that the politicians have written it into the Constitution is interpreted consistently over time. Sweden has no direct counterpart - the government's proposals, and their conformity with the laws, are tested instead by the Law Council, which, however, has no review mandate. In addition, all Swedish courts have the right to trial.

And this is where we stand today without a normal platform to put the Riksdag and the government in charge of their actions towards the people.

The official's responsibility was abolished in 1974

Until then, errors or omissions in the service could lead to those responsible being convicted of service errors. The scale of the sentence ranged from fine all the way to prison. In addition, there was the opportunity to suspend the official from further work, or even dismiss the person concerned.

WITHOUT PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY, EVERYTHING CAN BE HAPPENED IN THE EXERCISE OF POWERS AND AUTHORITIES IN SWEDEN AND THE POPULAR POLICIES AND THEIR UNDERTAKINGS (officials / women) within the state, regions (former county councils) and municipalities are not able to rely on security, because they cannot be trusted, the taxpayers / nation of Sweden are deceiving citizens of Sweden.

Public power is exercised under the laws

Section 2 Public power shall be exercised with respect for the equal value of all people and for the freedom and dignity of the individual. The individual's personal, economic and cultural welfare must be basic objectives of the public sector. In particular, the general public must secure the right to work, housing and education, and to promote social care and security and for good conditions for health.

The general aim is to promote sustainable development that leads to a good environment for present and future generations.

The general should work to make democracy's ideas guiding all areas of society as well as safeguard the individual's privacy and family life. The general must work for all people to be able to achieve participation and equality in society and for the right of children to be exercised. The general public must counteract discrimination against people on grounds of gender, color, national or ethnic origin, linguistic or religious affiliation, disability, sexual orientation, age or other circumstances that apply to the individual as a person.

As stated above, it is the government's duty to protect the people. For this reason, the government has a monopoly of violence.

Violence monopoly is a political science and philosophical term that describes the modern state's exclusive right to use force in its territory. One can say that the monopoly of violence and a bounded territory are two characteristics that distinguish the state from other organizations in a society.

This exclusive right is exercised under the laws of some limited authorities (military, police, etc.). Thus, in a rule of law, the monopoly of violence is exercised under the laws and with guarantees that the monopoly should not be abused. In practice, the monopoly of violence in modern democracies is usually expressed through other forms of coercive means than direct physical violence, such as the imprisonment of imprisonment and the determination of ownership in disputes. Institutions such as criminal justice and the prosecuting authorities, which forcibly enforce court decisions, are seen as parts of the monopoly of violence.

Violence monopoly is generally one of the basic prerequisites for a state to be recognized as a sovereign state by other countries. It is a matter of course that in a democracy and the rule of law, the monopoly of violence must be exercised under the laws otherwise there would be anarchy. And this is where we approach the question of whether the people can go beyond the written laws and use violence themselves in any situation. I think that in this situation Sweden is in today because the government is unable to protect the people. Therefore, we must dare to address the issue of armed struggle so as not to be annihilated as some ethnic groups were exposed 70 years ago.

The elections in 2018

General elections were held in Sweden on Sunday 9 September 2018 to elect the 349 members of the Riksdag. Regional and municipal elections were also held on the same day. The elections were not conducted in a legally secure way as many electoral districts abstained from voting ballots of the Swedish Democrats during the election day.

SVT's live data on the election authority's live countdown is suddenly closed down and the box remained black for several hours. This is documented in a zip.file if some one can open it
<http://84.217.10.36/val2018data.zip>

Here are some facts on this:

In opinion polls from institutes such as Yougov and Sentio, which have been the most accurate in terms of the Swedish Democrats' results in previous elections, the party has become the largest party in several measurements. In June, the party reached 28.5 in Yougov / Metro's survey but this is the official result:

Government formation in Sweden after the 2018 elections

Government formation in Sweden after the 2018 election took 129 days of probation and government negotiations, compared with the previous Swedish record of 25 days after the elections in 1979. However, government formation was not remarkably long in comparison with Europe's most long-standing expedition governments. The Government Löfven I acted as transitional government pending the formation of the government.

The January agreement was concluded or the four-party agreement was entered into between the Social Democrats, the Environment Party, the Center and the Liberals, and tolerated by the Left Party, the Löfven II Government (Social Democrats and the Environment Party) could finally take office on January 21, 2019.

All this, just to exclude the Sweden Democrats, or 1.1 million votes from making their voices heard.

As a consequence, the Alliance was declared dissolved at the national level by representatives of the incoming parties.

The Alliance was then disbanded by, among others, Ebba Bush Thor (KD) and Ulf Kristersson (M). Instead, the Liberals and the Center Party believe that the Alliance died already before Christmas 2018, when Ulf Kristersson chose to go forward as his own government alternative with the Christian Democrats, against the will of his fellow Alliance comrades. Annie Lööf (C) also believes that the Alliance's death began when Anna Kinberg Batra (M) in January 2017 declared that the Moderates wanted to break the isolation of the Sweden Democrats, even though the Liberals and the Center Party had a different view.

Swedish Migration Agency (Migrationsverket)

Autumn 2015 will forever be historic for the Swedish Migration Board. We have never had as much to do as we had then. For those of you who don't know, almost 163,000 asylum seekers came.

Granskning Sverige Economy Group has made an estimate of the historical gross cost and ends up at an incredible SEK 10,000 billion. The figure 10,000 billion is a minimum estimate of the taxpayers' gross cost of immigration since the asylum scams began somewhere in the early 1970s or earlier. Exactly calculating the cost might have been possible if society had wanted to, but the establishment has deliberately darkened the problem and therefore the figures on the costs are also very unclear.

Millions from the state budget flow to this, instead of going to the Swedish welfare and the Swedes who built this country. Saying their views on immigration and the rise in crime may be rooted in being called a Nazi or a racist, and by extension one may lose one's job or be indicted for incitement against ethnic groups, which I will return to later.

The National Audit Office should be the ultimate control body for the Migration Board's use of its funds and powers under the Act, but so far no review has been carried out by them.

The year before, Fredrik Reinfeldt had asked the Swedes to "open their hearts" and receive the wave of refugees expected to come from the Syrian war. But it was not only Syrians who came, but also Afghans, Pakistanis, Iraqis, Somalis and other African countries.

In a Facebook post published September 29, 2019 a former employee at the Migration Board writes his truth about what it really looks like with residence permits, grants, pensions and all the cheating they have witnessed over the years. Counter argument has dissected the post, some of it is true, but others are lies.

That this is fully possible shows the the revelations of Aftonbladet:

Iraqi minister who received grant in Sweden is being investigated for crime

1. "People who came here and who went home as soon as they got permission with our contributions intact. "

If you get a residence permit in Sweden due to a crisis in your home country, and then move back, you lose your residence permit and thus related contributions. When you have a residence permit, you are allowed to stay abroad for up to two years, provided that you have applied for this from the Migration Board.

2. "People who lived in 40 square meters split almost 100 people to keep contributions."

3. "People who borrowed as much as possible for study and then go back to the countries they came from. E.g. Somalia, Afghanistan and Iraq. "

4. "Pensions are paid to people who have not made a handle in Sweden."

5. "Survivor's pensions for children whose parents are said to have died. Up to over SEK 70,000 despite the fact that the parents never set foot here and despite the fact that there is no death certificate. No one is liable to be reimbursed when the parent (s) resurfaces. "

Frauds put into systems

<https://bakomkulissemabiz.wordpress.com/2019/12/18/kom-aldrig-och-pasta-att-ni-inte-visste-aldrig/>

Migration officers, teachers, social workers, good men, family home parents have reported on my site about the age frauds for at least ten years. Teachers who pointed out that they cannot have men over 30 years old who pretend to be 16 or 17 in their classes have been silenced by the principals.

Taxpayers pay for adult men to be handled in a much more costly way than those who are actually minors and for adult men who are placed in school classes with Swedish youth who are actually 15, 16 and 17 years old. A scandal and totally unacceptable in any country - but not in Sweden!

In more and more areas, it is becoming apparent how foreign citizens exploit the opportunity to cheat by using false identities. Ignorant authorities have no control or refer to another authority. Increasingly, a society is emerging where Swedish assets and the taxpayers' misery are being plundered to an unprecedented extent.

The fraud on Afghanistan: 3000 asylum seekers fly to Sweden in chartered planes!

<https://bakomkulissemabiz.wordpress.com/2020/01/04/bedrageriet-om-afghanistan-3000-asylsokande-flygs-till-sverige-i-chartrade-plan/>

False identities are registered as car owners

The Swedish Tax Agency's observation is backed by the Police. It is a common practice for organized criminals to use false identities to commit crimes. For example, the police have found several cases where cars are registered to foreign persons who do not exist. No authority today verifies the identity of foreign nationals when registering vehicles.

- We see that there are more and more foreign fictional citizens who own a large number of cars and who are then abused by traveling theft leagues and by rogue companies, says Krister Berg police inspector at the police's national operational department reports Sweden's radio.

<https://sverigesradio.se/sida/artikel.aspx?programid=83&artikel=6630426>

The advantage for the criminals is that the cars can never be associated with any person in connection with their being used in organized crime.

"And even without a residence permit, you can run a business, pay taxes and get a salary. You will then need to be assigned a coordination number by an authority. In that process, no one checks your true identity."

Sweden today signed the UN Global Compact Migration Agreement in Morocco on December 10, 2018

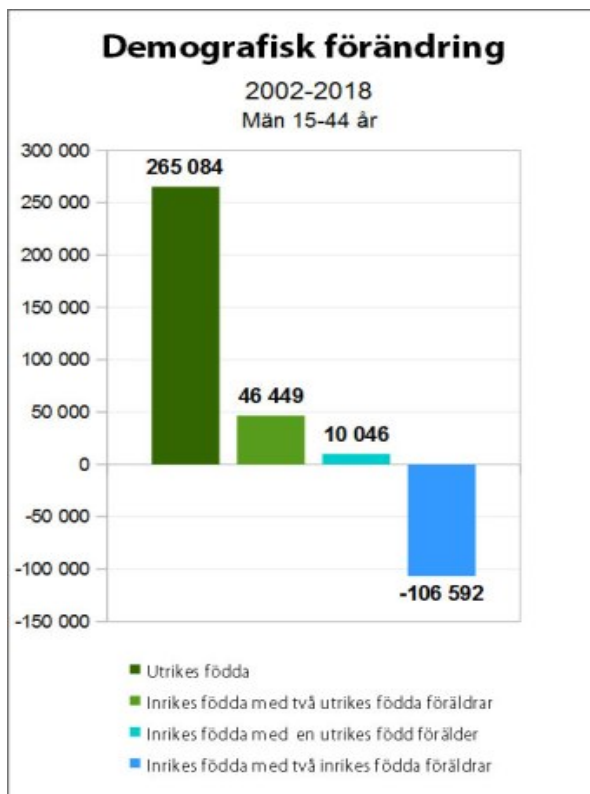

The Global Compact was implemented in all silence without any parliamentary debate and the agreement had not even been translated into Swedish. At the end of last week, the Swedish Democrats demanded a special debate on the UN agreement on migration. But the request was rejected by the President after consultation with all party leaders. - I think it's very regrettable. The issue concerns migration policy that the Swedish people consider to be one of the most important according to many different measurements, says Mattias Karlsson, SD's group leader.

Global Compact was signed by the then Migration Minister Helena Fritzon in Morocco. The Swedish government writes on its website that "Sweden welcomes the balanced final text" and that it is not binding, and that Sweden will not lose financially. This is the opinion of economist Jan Tullberg and technology doctor Lars Bern is dishonest to say, in a talk about Global Compact on Swebbtv. ## People exchange with imported Muslims Crime is a problem in society and a group stands out. Men of crime age, 15-44 years. Especially when it comes to the crime that creates insecurity. Violence, robbery, threats etc. This group is, as Gunnar Sandelin writes, "the most sensitive value gauge on the security of a society". Therefore, it is worth keeping an eye on that group.

Preliminary figures for 2018 have come from the Crime Prevention Council (BRÅ). Just like last year, the number of notifications has increased more (467) than the total number of rapes in 1975 (421). ## Hatespeech

The state-paid Näthatsgranskaren Tomas Åberg has a new profitable business concept. He sues old and sick people for damages in civil litigation. He has managed to get 4 million from the state to run his business. His business idea is to scan Facebook and other media for negative comments about Muslims, immigration and then sue them before the court for hate crimes.

As I mentioned before, Sweden has freedom of expression under the Constitution and then this procedure contravenes the law.

But the case does not get any better because the country's prime minister constantly hates the Sweden Democrats and calls them a fascist party or Nazis. This is proven in this video here:

Summary:

This started in 2014 with Fredrik Reinfeldt and has continued with Stefan Löfvén.

Today, the country is in complete disrepair where nothing works, school, healthcare, judiciary, police. Municipalities are in bankruptcy after the state has passed the immigration burden on them.

"Sweden is no longer a country where you can live safely without the risk of being murdered, shot or blasted in your vicinity. This has escalated especially since 2015 when Sweden received over 100,000 refugees in just a few weeks.

Subsequently, immigration has increased by about 100,000 per year, which is too much considering a country of Sweden's size. The reason is that the Riksdag's politicians unanimously decided that Sweden would become multicultural in 1975 without this future issue being brought out to the people. Prop 1975: 26.

Today, the country has a population of about 9 million. This started in 2014 with Fredrik Reinfeldt's and has continued with Stefan Löfvén's migration policy, whose aim was that Sweden would become a humanitarian superpower, without any impact assessment being made on how this large and rapid population increase would affect the host country and its population.

Unfortunately, no attention was paid to how the majority of migrants' religion, culture and tradition clashed with the host country's constitution, regulations and regulations.

The rulers turned a blind eye to these migrants' attitude about the supremacy of Islam over other religions and their open or hidden disdain for the West.

A Muslim who puts Swedish law over the Qur'an's commandments is regarded as apostate, ie an unfaithful and risks persecution of his own compatriots.

After 1975, the reform work continued with new proposals to the Riksdag, where ethnic and cultural diversity became the guiding principle, again without consent for analysis of future consequences. Volunteering to assimilation, mutual integration was presented in Prop 1997/98: 16 "Sweden, the future and diversity - from immigration policy to integration policy."

Many voices have been raised from countrymen over several decades about great difficulties and cultural clashes in various meetings with immigrants, but these experience-based experiences have been neglected and even turned into xenophobia and racism by political and media rulers, which has forced important votes for sustainable migration. silent.

With the facts in hand, we see how the country is in complete disrepair where nothing works, neither school, healthcare, care, police and the judiciary.

Jan Tullberg, associate professor of business administration at Stockholm School of Economics, states in his book "The Lock" that the total cost of immigration amounts to SEK 250 billion per year and in his research report from ESO (Expert Group for Studies in Public Economics), Joakim Ruist stated that each "refugee" costs about 74,000 each year for taxpayers.

One-third of the country's 290 municipalities are now in financial insecurity after the state has taken over the immigration burden on them, which has facilitated the erosion of statutory welfare with a crisis of confidence for governing politicians. In addition, the statutory "equality principle" has been put into play by newcomers' right to pre-emption, in both the housing market and tax-subsidized employment.

Therefore, the undersigned appeals for support for this appeal by the Swedish people, as a basis for prosecution with legal action pursuant to Article 3 of the "Genocide Commission for Crime" for the party leaders Stefan Löfven and Fredrik Reinfeldt together with their governments under Law (2014: 406).

Today's legal system with removed official responsibility means that the people must move on to higher instance.

These two party leaders, along with their governments, are to be prosecuted for genocide, crimes against humanity and war crimes in accordance with Law (2014: 406). But since we have a judicial system that does not work, and also a Constitutional Court to turn to, the people in Sweden turn to The AI Organization with our request.

We refer to the following articles

Article III

The following acts shall be punishable:

- (a) Genocide;
- (b) Conspiracy to commit genocide;
- (c) Direct and public incitement to commit genocide;
- (d) Attempt to commit genocide;
- (e) Complicity in genocide.

Article IV

Persons committing genocide or any of the other acts enumerated in article III shall be punished, whether they are constitutionally responsible rulers, public officials or private individuals.
